Best instructor at Montclair State University. Taught beyond expectations and I learned more from this class than any other this semester. My only issues was that the course work was sometimes more than I could handle between a book and outside source.

Lecture, discussion, and debate were all used, mostly discussion which I thought was the best method of instruction because poetry should be expressed differently by everyone and should be expressed by discussion by the entire class.

Dr. Somers-Willett has done an great job presenting the material in an interesting and engaging manner. I did not know a lot about poetry before this class, but I now feel informed and inspired. I felt comfortable participating in class discussions. She is excellent.

Although I like the presentations in the second half of the class, it is too much time. I can get together with peers and discuss poetry on my own, I'm paying for your presence!
